LET'S DANCE THE NIGHT AWAY

Let's dance the night away,
I'll sing and you can sway,
Tomorrow is far away,
Hey Hey.
We'll watch the crowds go by,
see the strange designs,
And how the shadows just fade.
Words are endless thoughts,
And dreams are all you've got,
when the music just fades away.

ONE DAY OF LIFE

I'll write your name across the sky,
It's crazy, but I know why,
I'm not afraid,
I'll do anything,
To make a dark world bright.
And catch the thoughts in my eyes,
But you know they can't disguise,
You're beautiful,
I'll do anything,
You know what love is like,
The moon and stars up in the sky,
They cast a spell into your mind.
I'll try and find the things you like,
In a crazy world where wrong is right,
I'm not afraid, I'll do anything to know what love is like,
It casts a spell into your mind.
One day of life,
When moments seem to last,
Well take some photographs,
And drive away.

SING

Your life is like a seesaw,
But you are ready for the real world,
With nothing to say that's kind,
Doesn't matter if it's London, if it's Glasgow or New York,
You'll see death, and you'll see life,
And all the things that you crave for,
Not just love, but you want danger,
Take your time,
As you walk on, as you talk on, sing:
La la la la la la...
You listen to street songs,
From the voice of a Walkman,
Somehow it's strange,
But somehow it's nice,
You move in a free world,
You got eyes like a dream child,
But you know how to think, cause you know how to find.
You know the world is full of danger,
Full of creeps, queers and strangers,
But you want love,
You want to be loved,
Cause love is kind.

TIME AND TIDE

Time and tide,
Waits for no one,
I wonder why watching the landscape lines,
Where the sky meets an ocean,
And nothing to save you from your fate in life.
Memories face she looks so lonely,
The future is made glazed in a failing light,
For tomorrow is no ones,
Lost and afraid by the thoughts, and the things you like,
Till you find,
Time leaves no one,
Does time.

IN THE LIGHT

Strange dream beyond the river, older than life.
Love kiss a heartbeat rhythm, for you and I.
When all the world is cruel, and you just can't hide.
Beat on the drum of freedom,
And come inside,
In the light.
You know the song of freedom,
It always rhymes.
People who don't believe it,
You usually find,
Are thoughtless,
Hard and greedy,
foolish and blind.
Don't let the world get to you,
Come inside.
In the light.
Although the Lord of reason,
is on your side,
Beware of all material,
And the evil eye.
Fame, greed, lies, and demons,
you must fight.
Don't let the world get to you, come inside.
Look for love and you will be found,
The good people will gather round.

LOVE TO DREAM

You know, I have to go away from you to be alone,
Into a land that's free,
Where I can hide,
You can't see.
The sun it never sets,
Across the land, or on the sea.
When you are so faraway,
Holding onto make believe.
But when you come back, you go faraway,
And nothing changes,
So long as you can say.
It makes me dream,
Like all the colours on the screen.
You can laugh,
But you don't see.
Thoughts drift like hours and days,
Across the sky to the Milky Way.
To dream is all you want,
Like being in love, it's so much fun.
But when you are on your own,
Feeling down, feeling low.
Someone just comes along,
and when they smile you just go.
But when you come back, you go faraway,
And nothing changes, as long as you can say,
I love to dream.

LOVE IS STRANGE

Oh, what a life it is now,
And no one knows the reason why.
I hope to God we all get by,
People say you know that is why,
Love is strange,
Life is hard,
No one knows the reason why.
There goes a man who makes me smile,
Full of hate for what he likes.
A hopeless case,
You may be right,
He never thinks to say goodbye.
Over and out,
What do you like,
Lazy days,
A crazy sky,
No one cares,
A private eye,
People say you know that is why,
I don't know why.

HEAR MY WORDS

Hear my words, read my thoughts,
Please don't laugh,
Please don't talk.
This song here is all I have got,
And only love will make it work.
Someday soon I'll make a break,
Follow hope,
Follow fate,
Won't be long now till I'm away.
All because I just like to say.
Hear my words,
Read my thoughts,
Don't look down,
Don't get caught,
Someone screams,
Someone talks,
No one looks,
Don't give up,
Hope and love will find away,
Lonely nights,
Lonely days,
No one smiles,
No one cares,
Oh my darling,
Remember what I say.

SO IN LOVE

Sometimes in life, you know it's hard to say,
All of the things, that really mean something.
When all your long lost friends have come and gone,
You wait, you look, you watch the world go on.
A strange dream at night,
Where no one dies.
A love kiss on a mouth,
I wonder why.
Downstairs she moves away,
She is hard to find.
No one can talk, or laugh,
Not even sigh.
Phone rings, one look, one word,
it's time to go.
When you are in love,
You want the world to know.
A strange dream at night,
Where no one dies,
A love kiss on a mouth,
I wonder why,
I'm so in love with you.
Like the dream that hides away,
Over her shoulder,
We are together everywhere,
when this world is over.

ALL THAT GLISTENS

All that glistens, isn't gold,
For this story to be told,
Like a dreamer who hides away,
Knowing tomorrow and today.
Come and lie with me tonight,
Don't be lonely, don't be shy.
Open hearts make open minds,
When you are older, you can cry.
Don't tell me who is on the scene now,
Your time wasting thoughts are concealed lies.
I am hoping and waiting, and praying,
That love will come and save me.
Cause I know.
Why hope, why wait,
You are young you are brave.
Life is cruel, men are vain.
Don't listen to what they say.
Life you see for me is just a dream world,
Where people follow God, and feel love.
And only the lowly can see it,
There is no looking back for believers,
Cause they know.
Then one day she came, and she told me,
That love the great adventure, it was over.
And as the dream fell to earth it faded,
I turned round, looked down,
She lay there, now I know.

COFFEE CUP GIRL

I once knew a girl who didn't go out very much,
But she had power over everyone who came to see her,
She was blonde, blue eyed, and very slim,
I liked her.
Well, as usual it was a dark night when I went to see her,
The iron gate was locked, and the wild dog was in the garden,
It was always the same,
She knew I would be coming.
The gate opened the dog was shouted inside,
And I entered.
I am tall dark and handsome,
I told myself,
As I walked inside the large mansion.
The servant said go to the basement,
She will see you there.
Sit on the chaise longue,
And entertain me she said,
Tell me about your wants, and needs, your dreams.

My lips are tender,
My lips are pure,
I am from the heavens,
You are from the Earth.
Well, time went by as it does,
and everything seemed just to drift away.
We made plans,
We made each other happy,
We laughed.

Love is what you need,
when you love someone.

The Coffee Cup Girl lives in a world where only the dreamers can see her.
And when she's alone, she sits by the phone,
hoping someone will come round and see her.

There is no time for bleating hearts,
You must not stay,
Please depart,
Faraway.

CRY CRY

Don't tell me your old and feeling lonely,
You laugh,
Your cruel,
Your sentiment is funny.
I touch her face,
But I could touch the sky.
I look around,
I wonder why.
Cry cry she's just a little girl with blue eyes,
Who says love is quite a thing,
But she's designed for a new world.
Her lips transmit all sorts of daydreams,
She paints, I write,
We are just of mainstream,
But I could take her way beyond the skies,
And I'll tell her we are never going to die.

DANGEROUS

I am walking through the darken night,
In search of love and strange delights,
I mean to say, I'll be all right,
But nothing good ever happens at night.
The cars go by,
The wind is cold,
She stays not far from Eastwood toll,
where people stay in mansions old,
I will cut down here,
even though they say it's dangerous.
Something strange is something nice,
And love they say you cannot fight,
Against the grain
Against your life.
Go over the bridge,
You be all right,
The road goes up to where it ends,
A woman waits she is your friend,
Look not towards the demon night,
Keep on walking you will be all right.

LOVE IS

Love is the heartache of life,
Made up of things that you like,
When love is in the air
Love is everywhere,
It will find you,
Hoping on a dream,
Speaks of senseless things
To guide you.
So when you find all you like,
Think not but once or twice,
A wish can make a dream,
No will be seen
If you decide to,
Hide over by the sea,
Look it's you and me,
I'll find you.
You'll be mine,
The love you have lost you will find.
All of my dreams are in your eyes,
You know that I believe,
If you wait and see I won't lie to you.

MANY ARE CALLED

Many are called,
But few are chosen,
To live out the dream,
You must be chosen,
The Holy men who dare not fear,
Are not brave enough to fight this year,
Let those who laugh, sing and dance, tell the truth
You will understand.
Man was planted like a tree,
So scripture says to you and me,
The pain, the grief, the shame, the lies,
The man who wins will never die,
Wind blows rain as tears subside,
And all who fear are lost that find,
All bad thoughts are from outside,
Man must know what's wrong and right.
And all along the street they stand,
and wave and cheer and move their hands,
Tomorrow's men go marching by,
Their names in stone,
They will never die.

SILICONE GIRLS

No time for love on the road,
Do the scene,
Do what you've been told,
Lie down the money will come,
Says the Yid with the large megaphone,
The sweet bitch she has got to get on,
It's her life, money for fun,
Go blow, no one you know
Dig deep it's time for the show.
It's fun and boy don't they know it,
They don't grieve,
they have got money to show for it,
Silicone girls are ready to go,
It's a ha ha world,
It's time you should know,
Dream, dream, girls,
They never get old,
It's a ha ha world,
It's time you should know.

CHINA

China is a land,
I don't understand,
Form Beijing to Tokyo,
The more I see, the less I know,
They speak so fast,
They can't let go,
NI Hao Ma,
Is all I know.
Like a flame the dragon blows,
The sky above is red and gold.
In the city meet the ghost of a lonely man,
All the woman they have gone,
I will understand, if he reads my palm.
They way they live and work and die,
Moa Tse-tung and old Shanghai.
In the city meet my friend Mary SS Wong,
From Malaysia is where she is from,
She takes my hand.

DAD HAS GONE

Dad has gone,
He left here on the sabbath day,
He left here for a better place.
The Minster arrived,
And after I had had her the book,
She said a little prayer.
Dad whose body was in bed.
His eyes where closed,
He was not there.
The old days are here again,
Nothing much to fear.
Outside in the taxi,
Do you know, I heard him say,
Take the bus.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday.
Sunday Monday, Tuesday is fine,
Wednesday is Moody, Thursday is mine.
And when the weekend comes,
You will be just fine,
cause Sunday is Monday,
All days are Rhymes.
And when you laugh,
Don't be afraid,
The moon and stars,
Are the love in your heart.
Those days are gone,
Lost in a fog.
One time here in your thoughts,
Then they are gone.

O LORD IT'S A STRANGE WORLD

O Lord, it's a strange world.
One night, when I was fast asleep,
The devil came into the scene.
I know not how, or by what means,
for all good things now she is weak.
I will show my love for her.
Father and mother she said did not care,
No job, no lover, only despair.
To the grave I will go, I will curse and swear.
I will kick and scream, nothing is fair.
A woman taken in adultery,
You know the rules, and what must be obeyed.
Jesus stood up, and he did say:
A sinless man can cast her away.

INTERESTING PEOPLE

Hold on, dream girl,
Love is real,
Front back,
Side on,
Older than the wheel.
The strange talk,
I feel high,
Don't know what's real.
No one can tell me,
How I should feel.
Interesting people, they have a new way.
Oh, how we love life, is what they say.
Deep down far out,
Passed the Willow tree,
We can make love there,
Yea, you and me.
Don't run don't hide,
Love is free,
No one can tell you, how life should be.

All around the world,
She will haunt you.
Rollerblading love thoughts,
in your mind.
One or two or three,
or more, no problem.
When she sees the love light in your eyes.

Of all the words she likes,
the one is horny.
Something in the rhythm,
makes her smile.

PEACE IN EUROPE

Europe the wide world,
You are like a flower.
Here is to my homeland:
Peace, love and power.
High are the mountains,
Low are the seas.
What we must fight for,
Is what we believe.
The Peace in Europe depends.
People in fountains,
All of them shouting,
Here is the reason,
They must have freedom.
Here me you wise men, you must be strong now.
No time for valour, we must have honour.

ROBERTA

I am resigned, you are never free,
Hopeless in love, no time for me.
How does it sound, forgetting me,
Lovers in life, they must be free.
Roberta, you are free.
You love life.
But you don't like me.
Losing a friend, how can it be.

Cameras,
No cameras.
I believe in silence,
and peace upon the earth.
Older and wiser now,
I know how I should live.
On the other side of the glass
Where I do live.

who never will exist.

CAIRO: MILLIONS OF DREAMS

Cairo, millions of dreams in Cairo,
You wait for me in Cairo. We will be free in Cairo.
Thousands of dreamers, thousands of schemers,
Looking for lovers, some up at Giza,
Always habeeba, so nice to see you.
We live by the river, The wonderful river.
Once she gets near you,
She will never leave you, Al Qahirah.
No one will hear you,
But someone might see you,
We will wait till the morning,
Up with the new dawn,
Always on side walks,
Doorways and shadows,
Look at the people,
You are in a time warp.
Wait for Badia,
Eyes like an eagle,
She will take us for lunch,
to down town Felfela,
Drive past Tahrir,
Watch all the sailboats,
Down by the river,
The wonderful river.

DERERT MEN

Have you heard of the common people,
Who live and work in upper Egypt,
Always laughing,
Always smiling,
Take you home if you are nice to them.
Desert men will always greet you,
Desert men will always speak with you,
Desert men will always be your friends for life.
All the mosques and all the churches,
The highways byways, clear blue sky days,
Cleopatra and old Akhenaten,
Naguib Mahfouz, and belly dancing.
All the ghosts and all the creatures,
Coptic Christians, Muslim teachers,
T E Lawrence,
The old museum,
If you go there you might see them.

I WILL BE FREE

Somewhere in the desert,
on a horse in a foreign land,
Guide looks at me wondrously,
The reigns are in his hands,
Take me to a pyramid,
This is my command,
When he kicks my horse,
We fly across the sand.
Faith, hope, I will be free.
Sitting in the classroom,
With a pencil in my hand,
Teacher speaking loudly,
But no one understands,
Nasser was a fighter,
And freedom is the plan,
He seized all the assets to finance the dam.
The west is looking forward,
While the east is looking back,
Well, that is what some people say to everyone they see,
But do you know the story of the man up the sycamore tree,
Jesus said make haste, come down,
I must stay with thee.

MEET ME DOWN IN ZAMALEK

By the bookshop, down the street,
you will see a certain sign.
Go up the stairs into the bar,
A man will show you inside.
Meet me down there,
Meet me down in Zamalek.
A woman from the Sudan land wants to take me home tonight,
Her husband killed and her thin body,
is full of strange delights.
So when you come to look for fun,
You know where I will be,
You can laugh and joke,
Sing and dance with Tony, Hanny and me.

JIMMY AND SUZY

Jimmy in the desert, walks in the sand,
Thinks about writing, a pen in his hand,
But who is the creature he has in mind,
He smiles to himself, because he knows fine.
Way back way then, when he was a lad,
He met Suzy, a girl and a half,
She said to Jimmy,
Yea, you are the one,
I will never leave you,
We will have such fun.
If you send,
Send your love,
Send your love and you'll be fine,
If you send,
Send your love,
send your love and you'll be mine.
Now in Cairo, he is a rich man,
Stays at the Hilton and works on the land,
Likes the night ladies, the sea and the sun,
He forgot Suzy and that she was the one.
Suzy came to Cairo, and to the hotel,
She wanted to see if everything was well,
Down at reception, she stood with the staff,
When she saw Jimmy she started to laugh.

CAIRO TONY

Cairo Tony, he's the man,
He walks dead straight,
And dresses fine.
He likes good food and he likes good wine,
He sleeps all day and he works at night.
At the tables, ice cool stare,
Lots of people, everyone is there,
A girl on his lap with a glass of wine,
When they spin the wheel, she goes wild.
Just before they place their bets,
Tony smiles, he never frets,
A gold filling in a mouth of decay,
He is nobody's fool that's what the papers say.
With all that money in a bank account,
Tony loves to dance, sing and shout,
He is a real one off,
No opinion of life,
Sharp as a tack,
Street wise and kind.

THE SEARCH

I will come and search for you,
river valleys, mountains too,
Over seas and highways new,
I will come and search for you.
So he waits and bides his time.
Thoughts of love,
thoughts of life,
By the graveyard he will hide,
And there he will wait to see his bride.
A beggar and a thief in life,
Who knows no rules, what's wrong, what's right,
The tears well up inside his eyes,
Karina didn't come last night.

DEAD END ZURICH

The grass is always greener,
On the other side of the road,
Where things are new, go faster,
Than you have ever known.
Some place to go,
Somewhere to hide,
Forget the past,
It's only right.
Dead end Zurich is the end of the road,
Here's your ticket
Away you go.
Billionaires, old rock stars, who want to hide their gold,
And forward thinking people,
Who are always on their own.
The lake reflects the trees and sky,
No scene is dull with mountains high.

CODE NAMED DORA

I'm going to tell you a story about Dora,
And a man codenamed Lucy, by the Soviets,
Now Dora, he made maps with his own hands,
But when the night got dark, cloak and dagger.
When Dora met Lucy, they got on well,
Yea, things really did seem to happen,
The secrets the say came from Adolf,
And Dora sent them off to the Kremlin.
The Germans asked the Swiss to hand him over,
But Dora fled to Egypt with his secrets,
The British there did not want to see him,
And Dora was sent to jail back in Russia.
Money is the root of all evil.
Six million Jews killed in the camps of Buchenwald, Treblinka, Belsen.
Global conflict, young soldiers killed in their prime from every nation.
Millions wandering around displaced.
Shattered Europe.
Someone called it collective derangement,
The end of civilisation.
It was war,
It was genocide.

RED ORCHESTRA

Oh, how he stumbled and fell in the night,
When he went forward to sign up and fight.
He joined the Red Orchestra.
Millions are dying,
Europe is in turmoil,
Ordinary people are being crucified,
And everyone is crying.
Anguish and depravity,
Crazed feelings are in fashion,
Money is worth nothing,
And everyone is lying.
All for the want and love of a new master race.
Down by the river is a fine place to stay,
This is your country,
Geneva your base.
Stay away from the window,
So that no one can see you,
Agents are everywhere
And friends will deceive you.
No one can warn you,
if you hear someone coming,
Hide the machine in the cupboard,
And talk to them until they go away.
There will be no tomorrow, comrade,
Unless you send messages today.

WONDERFUL MYSTERY

She sits alone in her night room,
Looking for something to write.
All thoughts they are gleaned from her bible,
From death to the resurrection life.
The dream of love is calling,
It seems to follow her around,
Her heart may be broken,
But she is certain that after death there will be life.
It's such a wonderful mystery,
When you are dead you are alive.
Tomorrow they will come to see her,
They travel from near, and yet so far,
It's always the same seats they sit in,
She knows most of them off by heart.
It's there when they work, and in their pleasures.
They have so much to give, but they are not proud.

WHEN I WAS YOUNG

I remember when I was young,
People said be kind have fun,
Learn to give all that you can,
What you want, you will become.
Life you see for me is made up in the stars,
Even though they are near and yet so far,
You will find:
Lovers,
Kisses,
Greetings,
Freedom, Friendship,
Courage, Kindness,
Believing,
All good things in life have meaning,
Sing the words and you will feel them.
In this world of unbelievers, criminals, gangsters, deceivers,
Made up lies, all kinds of reasons,
Steal your life,
Yea, you should fear them.
Don't be a fool don't break my heart,
Look to the sky the silvery moon,
And you will find.

LOVE YOU

Oh, how life can sometimes hide,
All the things you feel inside,
Treasured moments,
Pleasure, pain,
Don't you think that life's a game.
Oh, I will love you from the start,
From my heart, from the start Aha.
Don't you think that this life is just crazy,
Love makes you high, then you feel so lazy,
You have come from Sicily, an island just off Italy,
Lots of sun and lemon trees,
I know this sounds like make believe.

THE OLD SOLDIER

This is the story of the old soldier,
Who fought and walked through Italy,
And when he arrived at the border,
He sang his song against tyranny.
Don't you forget, time is not kind,
People were killed millions of lives.
Thank God for peace and for freedom,
And the men who fought for you and me,
Even though there were people who traded in stocks and shares with the enemy.

You fought for the cause in the last war,
Oh, how true I know you are,

I will follow you.

GLASGOW IS SOME PLACE

Glasgow's a place,
full of criminals and gangs,
Who fight on the street,
wave blades in their hands.
No one knows why they are angry and mad,
Or why it happens here,
No one understands.
Yea, Glasgow some place,
No mean city at night,
It starts of good humoured,
then someone picks a fight,
A look that is lost,
and there's hatred in his eyes,
He comes from a place,
that's always been despised.
See that man,
He's part of a criminal gang,
Goes to the dancing,
listens to the band,
And then he stands,
with his knife in his hand,
Shouting at the people, outside the old Barrowland.

MY BROTHERS

This is for my brothers,
Yea, you and I,
You and I,
We'll walk that walk together,
Yea, you and I,
You and I.
Men who love each other,
are men who are brothers.
Men of arms, kings and guards,
Fans and managers,
Soldiers, sailors, men in drag,
Cooks and common lads.
Men who know the strength of love,
are thoughtful wise and kind,
They always welcome everyone,
A hand shake is the sign.
Down that dusty path to life,
Lies many a sleepless night,
Now we're all hear let's sing and dance,
until the morning light.
I know, you know, love is the light.

DANCING IN THE EVIL CITY

We travel in from the south side,
Made for love, dressed up fine.
Our hearts are young, sprits wild,
We all know what Glasgow's like.
It's big old heart open wide,
rich and poor side by side.
Dancing in the evil city.
Down upon the wooden floor,
Shouts and cries. Yea here we go,
The Busby Boys are feeling fine,
No one dares cross our line,
Heart beats love,
With just one smile,
Gorgeous girl,
You'll be mine.
The gangs arrive, they want to fight,
Music stops, on goes the lights.
To the bus stop you go with her,
And in a doorway you say hello.
Heart to heart, boy to girl,
This is why you had to go.
You get the bus at the back of George Square,
Look around see who is there.
All the gangs are fighting now,
It's Tongs you bass, we rule OK,
People being slashed, people being cut,
When you see this you never can forget.

GANGLAND GLASGOW

Hear this song,
about an evil city,
Where the devil,
took young men and women,
In packs like dogs,
they wandered around,
Shouting ya Bass,
We rule this town.
Gangland Glasgow,
the papers said was a human tragedy.
Young men in their prime,
should have been living in perfect harmony.
Don’t tell me you never heard about this before,
I don’t believe you.

GANG WARFARE

Tongs Ya Bass,
Cumbie,
Glasgow is a city you must beware,
Not long ago it was mayhem everywhere,
I remember I used to travel into town at night,
You couldn't walk up a street, without seeing a fight.
It was gang warfare, gang warfare,
Glasgow in the seventies, I was there.
I remember, I was standing,
not far from Burn's Hoff,
A man in a Crombie came up to me that night.
He stood in the doorway, pulled out a knife,
Shouted to the night sky, Cumbie all right.
Frankie Vaughan appeared, and said let's not fight,
Hand in your blades,
Your weapons, and your knives,
As long as you don't sing
Then we'll be all right,
That was a joke, but this was real life.
They say those days have gone,
They have faded with the times,
When all the Glasgow gangs used to stand there with their knives,
In case you want to go to the city that always smiles,
Beware of neds or you'll end up running for your life.

CITY OF TOWERS

It’s plain to see, when you look at the city,
The scars it bares from the nineteen seventies.
Don’t go alone, always walk with someone,
Stand in a crowd, and take a Taxi if you can.
City of Towers, where men die, they leave flowers,
In the City of Towers, where men die, they leave flowers.
You can see the desperate look, when you pass them by on the street.
Their frozen faces dull, with sin and cheap alcohol,
Steal your eyes, then come back for your wrinkles,
Take the shirt of your back, before they kill ya.
City of Towers where men die they leave flowers,
In the City of Towers where men die they leave flowers.
Does this sound familiar,
Glasgow town, No Mean City.

NINETEEN SEVENTY FOUR

It‘s nineteen seventy four, and you are on your own,
You’ve got to take care, you’ve got to know the score,
Glasgow’s not pretty, not like any city,
Yes, there’s the dancin,
But with all the violence.
To get high, when I’m low, this is where I want to go.
In the city at night,
You see men all the time,
Running for their lives,
In and out of crowds.
Girls dressed in skimpy clothes,
Even when the weather’s cold,
Dancin in the street,
No shoes on their bare feet.
A golden year for me, you know,
Was one nine seven and four,
I got a job with a newspaper in the town,
And I met all kinds of folk,
But at night my friends and I,
We dressed so fine, we were beaus,
In oxford bags, panda shirts,
Doc Martens and Crombie coats.

LIGHT YEARS AWAY

Light years away, I am light years away.
Sweet sixteen is not seventeen,
You are young, you'll never be old,
But you can't be shy, so you live it up,
And the things you say are bold.
The girls you want, are the girls you know,
There is no such thing as no.
Everybody will remember you from 1974.
Gerry, Kenny, and his brother John,
We made our mark in town,
The city it was evil but the clubs they had the sounds.
The people looked and the people stared,
They came from all around,
With our southside style,
And the way we danced,
On the floor, going up and down.
Sometimes, I see myself standing there.

WATCHING ALL THE PEOPLE

Watching all the people, watching on and on,
I'm watching all the people,
watching on and on.
String of pearls, hi there girls,
Would you like to come to another world,
Where dreams are made from old Lp's,
It was the nineteen seventies,
And hear the songs they play,
Time is on your side,
Oh, look at that nice face.
We all dressed up so we could be,
like the stars on TV,
There was Sweet and there was Mud,
an Electric light Orchestra.
And when the man sang, that he could play guitar,
Oh, it was a nice phrase.
I know where I can go when the world is rough,
It's such a nice place.

JUMP IN THE RIVER

This is a story of how you can survive, war ever day, murder in the night.
Plane crash on a hillside,
while stocks fall and rise.
You can jump in the river, the river, the river,
You can jump in the river, the river.
News man on the frontline, suit and tie are nice.
as he tells you lies.
He says war is over,
as the bombs fall from the sky.
See the young soldier,
fire at the crowd,
People run away,
presenter he can smile,
News from the studio,
weather tomorrow fine.

MIRROR MIRROR

No one watches anymore,
the telly is a bore.
Everyone has turned it off,
and went outside of doors.
Life is now a peaceful place,
Where people are not controlled,
By shining glass personalities,
or philanthropic whores.
Mirror mirror on the wall,
who is the fairest of them all,
Is it you, or is it me,
Oh, lady queen how fair thee be.
Like a bird I'll climb that mountain, high thou it may be.
Won't sit around, or lie in bed,
And watch the old TV.
False images an unreal world of news,
and fantasy,
Captivating, stimulating, though they want my soul from me.

CLING ON

Hand on heart, this ain't life,
You’re an addict, for their lies,
All your life you’ve been afraid,
Now you must learn to escape.
Teacher teacher, I declare,
You’re the one full of despair,
All your screens are everywhere,
The death of life,
A real nightmare.
Cling on, cling on,
Cling on, Cling on.
When I woke up this morning,
I made a big mistake.
All they want is for you to stare,
at the screen,
But don’t despair.
Look at me I’m faraway, gone tomorrow, here today.

FLOWING IN

Inner dreams there not unhelpful, even though there are from a screen.
But I can tell you a thousand stories,
And every one, I know, is real.
Images from those silent pages,
Lying there in your imagination,
Read the thoughts of all mankind,
And see the words in your mind.
Flowing in flowing out, yea yea yea.
Dreamers are lovers with silent faces,
Lost in a world of the imagination,
See them run across the street,
They knew that they had to meet.

Nothing takes your time away,
You're the one the papers say,
Can sing and dance, make old look new,
No time for goons in Hollywood,
At seventeen you had a dream,
King of Rock'n' roll to be.
Johnny Boy, Johnny Boy,
You will be my number one.
Johnny loves dancing,
Yea, he loves to dance, yea,
Johnny loves dancing,
all night long - all night long.

JUST AN ILLUSION

Can't stand the sight of it,
It’s false, it’s just so daft.
Why you should stare at it,
Always makes me laugh.
Dream on boob tube baby,
You are in the past.
Life has overtaken you,
You have had your last broadcast.
Hey hey, don’t you know, it’s just an illusion.
One evening by the river,
I saw this strange design,
Two faces in the water,
flickered side by side.
I know this thing ain’t real,
it’s cold and its streamlined.
Comes from a place,
where no one lives, exist or dies.

BRIGHT LIGHTS

Journey through the meadow,
Loving silence, step by step.
Now all your thoughts are full of wonder,
You are ready to meet your friends.
Bright lights, never change.
There are people you know who go swimming every day in the Glass River.
They are hypnotised,
by the images they see there.
They can no longer tell you,
what is real and what is unreal.
Life for them has become a fantasy.
Floating in the water are many colours,
But they are all dead.
So don't you falter,
or wait a minute,
They want your soul first,
then your wealth.

from the unreal medium.
All the time that you have been away,
life has past you by that day.
Lovely girl standing there,
swings her hips, fixes hair,
Hello my dear, I am calling you,
I’m the one who wants to give you,
Artificial Memories.
Don’t believe in old wives tales,
fortune wheels or presenters.
My mind is crystal clear,
Look there is dad, and there is me,

WALKING TO THE RIVER

All day long they wage their wars, transmitting pictures, some with words,
It's Jack-o'-latern, Halloween,
they have lost their minds.
Oh, how I long to be free,
to search the sky, and to believe,
That all of life is inside me,
and I can overcome.
I am walking to the river,
looking at the sky,
My dreams are in the river,
but love is in my eyes.
Oh, to hear the things they say,
To catch the breeze,
then run away.
From foreign lands, oppressive ways,
We shall overcome.
You and I, we shall rise,
Yea, you and I, we shall cry,
And we shall overcome.

FREEDOM IS THE ISSUE

All the Arabs in the world,
they want democracy, you know.
They should take a look at as us,
it ain't real, we know.
When you think about your life,
stand up tall, and let them know.
Freedom is the issue,
Yeah, this is what we want.
No man is owned,
by the council, or the state,
He is free to speak his mind,
think of Watergate.
You can challenge anyone,
stand up tall and let them know.
Long time ago there was something called,
democracy, you know,
Men and women worked for you,
And you were in control.

Now is the time to let them know.

LAST CHANCE IN FRANCE

He hears is the music, playing from somewhere down below.
He heads for the nightclub,
waits outside of the door.
A French woman sees him,
Voudrais, Monsieur,
Last chance in France for romance.
She calls him papillon,
He is like a Butterfly,
So tender, mild mannered,
She looks into his eyes,
Would you like to dance sir,
with Mademoiselle tonight.
They dance to three or four,
then it is back to her abode.
The night has gone quickly,
French kisses and amour.
But everything changes,
when an apple appears in her throat.

PABLO AND HENRI

Pablo and Henri went down to the sea.
They took their paints with them,
They wanted to believe.
In something beyond them,
like a sign or a dream.
A photofit picture,
Of a world unseen.
From Antibes to Collioure,
Went Pablo and Henri.
More brushstrokes down by the sea,
But they could not find the dream.
Strange shapes, flooded with light,
The young sailor, still life,
French window, a green light,
The blue nude, such a delight.
So how come there is nothing new under the sun.
I just love being in France,
Dream girls, lots of romance
Hi hopes, waiting for love,
You are in a different world.
Pablo and Henry have gone,
have left me here all alone,
Sitting down, just by the sea,
Wondering, to be, or not to be.

HAPPY HOME

You may be walking past my gate, and hear me playing songs from another age.
They may remind you of better times,
when life was innocent, and we were really wild.
You are here in my happy home,
Dreams are for real, you know, if you let your feelings go.
Under the moonlight, so late at night,
lost in a forest, runaway and hide.
No one will see you, summer's arrived,
wait till the morning, wake up in the light.
Go forward and backwards, from side to side,
Move in a circle, runaway and hide.
Remember the tree house, hidden in the sky,
everyone looking and calling you inside.

PEACE LOVE AND JOY

Peace love and joy,
The widow now she lives alone,
no one passes, no one phones.
Life to her is still unknown,
her memories though are so much fun.
Don't be frightened of getting old.
Peace love and joy, are written in your heart.
Someone said it was the end of peace,
when the killing became so fierce,
walk on through the valley of fear,
dark moments, endless tears.
Don't be frightened when you are on your own.
I was always on the outside,
never one for looking in,
life is such an experience,
no one knows when it will end, or begin,
Don't be frightened when you hear of wars.
Peace love and joy are written in your heart.

WANT TO LUV

Yogurty was seventeen,
overweight, but kind,
When he danced upon the floor,
he would always cry,
I want to luv,
I want your luv.
Computer games had made him strange,
and porn had made him wild.
He would trawl the clubs at night.
to see what he could find.
Tablespace, lower camel case,
his phrases made people smile,
Cyber punks and college girls,
and other new age styles.

OTHER SIDE OF LIFE

Wee Tony was a nice young man, lived life on the street with a can,
evicted from his rented flat,
the council they had a very strange plan.
What should he do now,
where should he go,
Up over to the other side of life.
Chased by an unmarked car,
through the city streets he ran,
found himself on a bridge too far,
and once there he made his stand.
Then he jumped into the water below.
The plain cops ran from their car,
to see if he had survived,
but no sign of a head or an arm,
as crowds gathered all around,
for the man he was on the way down.

UNDO THE IMAGE

I was on the outside,
I was always looking in,
People they were friendly to me,
but it times it was sink or swim.
I've read everything in life, you know,
now I know how to win.
Undo the image,
if it's not right.
UK, you may say,
is the place to be,
free speech, human rights,
luv, integrity.
But you must protect yourself,
from states and authorities.
It's no disgrace, so don't you fear,
not falling into line.
Be steadfast, hold your breath,
think, clear your mind.
Everyone is vulnerable until the day they die

ALWAYS REMEMBER

She thought a lot about when she was young,
where she was from, what her mother had done,
Where they had stayed, her family and friends,
cared by an aunt until she was ten.
Then one night she met someone nice,
and in his arms he told her about life,
His words were clear,
she touched the scar on his face,
and with a kiss, he said as they embraced.
Always remember, love is in your heart,
love the things you cherish and they will never die.
He had some trouble early on in his life,
made some mistakes, got into a fight,
was badly scared for the rest of his life,
his being rocked to the core all right.
Life never stops, it always goes on,
winter's here, then summer is gone,
Lovers part, babies are born, someone's brother, daughter or son.

ANONYMOUS MAN

Things in the past, they upset him,
Yes clever minds, they can threaten,
and now he wanders round in circles,
never speaks, never listens.
He hides away from society,
He's an anonymous man.
Lost for words,
no conversation,
he walks around in isolation.
Medieval thoughts,
no one to play with.
Another day of resignation.

NEW DAY

Some people will follow you,
and some will look away.
This is society,
when in trouble, they walk away.
But there is a dream from a falling star,
moving in your broken heart.
Wait for the New Day.
Birds can fly so faraway,
but we must think and pray,
Oh it's a tragedy,
you can’t remember being born.
but there is a dream for everyone,
moving in your broken heart.
The only thing that I regret,
is kissing the dead flesh.
O it was hard to leave,
my father lying in his bed.
but there is a dream for everyone,
from birth to death, the kingdom come.
Wait for the New Day.

JEALOUS HEART

Thousands of people, wasting their lives,
bitter at others,
trouble and strife.
No hope of change,
they hide from the light,
love disappeared,
it left over night.
Love has now gone,
but where has it gone,
something went wrong,
everything is gone.
Hope is now fear, hobble along everything is queer,
when you are alone.
Man has a jealous heart,
Everything is made plain,
voices sound the same,
no one is near,
there is no one to blame,
mind is unclear, darkness despair,
she wont be there, no one will care.

END OF AN ERA

Wearable computing,
sends bluetooth to your brain,
Don't worry, it really doesn't matter,
pop music will not last for ever.
So rest in peace Dylan and John Lennon,
this is a song for a new generation.
The era has come to an end,
Play all your records, remember your friends.
Here is the message, email all your friends,
if you streamline this image,
click to save, then send.
On line surfers have brought about the change,
real time lovers playing on line games.
If you put on virtual glasses,
you can wipe away the rain,
wearable computing,
sends bluetooth to your brain.
Love making images,
cyber men from space,
CAM girls from their bedrooms,
will excite you every day.

STAY WITH ME

Look at the sunset,
the day has turned to night,
figures move slowly,
as cars pass them by.
Oh where does life come from,
and where will it go now.
live life in the present,
the hear and the now.
Darling won't you stay with me tonight.
Shops are now empty,
they are closed for the night,
people are happy,
they're saying goodbye.
Another day is over,
the sunset is on fire,
Live life in the present,
and you'll never die.

WONDERFUL LIFE

As I walk along, I feel wonderful,
my eyes are fixed, soul indestructible.
With every step I take, I find my way.
And all the stars they shine from heaven above.
The praise of man therefore must go to God,
and every day in life is wonderful.
The things you see out there incredible,
and every day in life is another day,

IN THE BEGINNING

What is a world,
Without people in life,
Earth was brought forth,
Darkness, then light.
Man can't be lonely,
So he gave him a wife.
Jehovah he rules,
the day and the night.
In the beginning,
God created the universe.
Every beast of the earth,
Every fowl in the air,
Green herbs for meat,
Let dry land appear.
Stars for the night,
Every creature in life.
Jehovah he rules
the day and the night.
Adam and Eve,
Hatred and love.
Fruit of a tree,
Heaven above,
Number of days,
Darkness then light.
Jehovah he rules,
the day and the night.

RELIGION COMES OUT OF THE DESERT

One time, nobody knows,
There appeared the Holy Ghost,
And all life from then had meaning.
Words of love, and so many stars,
the prophet spoke: Jesus was Christ,
and the people, they all believed in him.
Religion it comes out of the desert,
Makes a discord into harmony.
It's even a vapour,
Almighty and gentle,
Makes fools of pretenders,
As it sets you free.

THE STORY THAT NEVER ENDS

Listen now come,
Close my friends,
And hear the story,
That never ends.
Loaves and fishes,
Five thousand men.
They knelt down,
He blessed them.
Forty days, and forty nights,
When temptation comes,
Hope you see the light.
The Son of Man,
A donkey ride.
End of death,
Start of life.
And I will sing my song,
to the people who have gone,
And they will hear my voice,
and I will carry on.

THE JESU MAN

He said that the temple,
Would fall to the floor.
His words would last forever,
Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.
The Jesu man,
Waits by the shore,
Matthew, Mark, Luke, John,
Love for ever more.
They said he was a dreamer,
An idol, a god.
Who walked on the water,
True spirit of love.
His words were power,
The sign of the cross,
Man can't destroy you,
For I will give you love.

LOVE AND PRAY

Certain people have climbed the mountain,
You can hear it in the things they say.
Their words are full of devotion,
From the heart, life is a mystery.
Love, love, love and pray.
Jesus stood there in the temple,
Moneychangers,
He chased them all away.
Life is not all about craving,
It's about the living God of faith.
Certain things, you might remember,
Another life, one more breath to take.
When you walk on through the valley,
You will know what to say.

WE ARE ALL ALIENS

We are not part of the human race,
Remember we have an interface,
Let's chat, then fly away.
Man from the church,
He goes to pray,
Leaves home. no God they say,
Don't know the truth, or the way.
Everyone is alien.
Everything so queer today,
Lonely planet,
No one cares,
Life was not meant to be that way.
Secret cams, people watch and stare,
Gypsies living in palaces,
All your information is there.
Skype is on, it's a Russian girl.

Just the other night,
I got such a fright,
Life was passing me by.

DON'T BELIEVE IN MAGIC

A lot of us dream,
but we just find away,
To circumvent,
The online tragedy.
Make a call,
find something to say.
Don’t get involved in magic,
No, don't get involved in love at all,
It breaks your heart,
Makes you go mad with it.
One thing is sure,
Leaves you with nothing at all.
And then one day,
You see eyes that look your way,
She must be loved,
She is an erotic babe.
When she comes you had better pray,

NO DARKNESS

To trust in love, you must be bold,
Curtain rise let the story unfold.
All dreams are made in heaven,
for young and old.
Shakespeare and Romeo, Juliet,
A long time ago,
An ancient tale of wonder,
and two foes.
There's no darkness in the sky,
When all the stars are out at night.
Tristan and Isolde,
made famous by Wagner,
And the only way he could achieve it,
They must die.
How it goes nobody knows,
Dark secrets of the unknown,
Cause in life nothing is unusual,
When it is art.

CAN'T WAIT FOREVER

Tick tock, step aside,
Down here, follow the line.
I can't wait forever,
You know how this life
can come crashing down.
Best not to think at all,
Stay safe and sound.
Take him to the top,
Move him to the side,
Make sure he knows his lines.
Long, tall, or short,
That looks fine,
Stand in line.

TIME FOR LOVE

A familiar figure walks through a crowded street,
He's acting strange, like an acid freak.
She watches him through the camera,
He laughs and jokes,
Unaware of her.
Maybe one day they will meet.
It's time for love.
No one in the world now can hide away,
With society surveillance everywhere,
They want control of you day and night,
All creatures in the world,
They must divide.
Falling stars though will collide.

NO FEAR

In life there are many secrets,
Hidden voices, so deceitful,
Sick minds, alter egos.
Some working for the money,
Others for political people.
White girl, or boy negro,
No, fear, I have no fear.
Listen to me now all you people,
Remember in life render good for evil.
Most people, they are just crazy,
They love talking, but they are lazy,
Wonder why they keep you waiting.
There words will try and phaze you.
Breaking news now on the radio,
Man's been killed - I don't need you.

WALL OF FUN (part 2)

Can't seem to find my way,
Love is not my destiny,
No friends now girls or boys,
Now that I am on my own.
No dreams left inside of me,
I'm not afraid to say goodbye,
It's easy to turn your back on reality,
When you know life is a lie.
The Wall of Fun,
Take me to the,
Wall of Fun,
I know that is what I want.
Deep down my thoughts are still,
I see time recurring at will,
No start, no end, no middle,
A world at war, crushed by evil.

PLAYING WITH HATRED

They walk the streets everyday,
Putting letters into doorways,
The revolution is on its way,
Mind games wanna play.
Children's future is made today,
Party people they vote one way,
You make life not worthwhile,
Then you are gone.
You are playing with hatred,
Yes, you are.
False dreams and promises,
There is no way I can hide away,
The sickness is conditioned in your mind.
It's the death of certainty,
There is no time to runaway,
They know your name,
Where you stay, who you are.

I WAS WRONG

There is no rhyme nor reason,
Why life is false, so weird,
Now that I have clear vision,
It's plain I can see.
How can you hold back feelings,
Your heart is ever beating,
Love is what you are needing,
Now that you can say.
I was wrong.
Holding back love,
Holding back words.

Don't you know, love is a dream.

MEN WITHOUT MOTHERS

When I was with you,
Love was always there,
I dreamed of freedom,
Life without a care.
Now mother has passed to heaven,
There is no one there.
And when the dream goes,
I hope you will be there.
Men without mothers,
We are everywhere.
Mary sat at the window,
now she's not there.
Mother has passed to heaven,
There's no one there.
And all the people,
they just look and stare.
They may have known her,
but they don't really care.
Mother has passed to heaven,
There is no one there.

RETURN TO YOU

Lonely people, they are never free,
They are captured by a certain honesty.
Dreams fall like stars, but there are thorns.
All life is strange, just you wait and see,
Mother who danced, has now disappeared.
And one by one, we all must go.
I will return to you one day.
In my thoughts, lie my eternal prayers.
When I was young, I stood upon your knee,
Weightlifter boy,
But you just laughed at me.
A woman's thoughts, I did learn.
And now the time has come for me to go, into a world, that I do not know.
Can I survive along that road.
I will return to you one day,
In my thoughts, lie my eternal prayers.

FALLING THROUGH LIFE

Walking to the Dripps today,
To the cottage where they stayed.
I have come to see this hallowed place,
Where as children, they did stay.
Maybe I will find the crystal set,
or the cloth left by the gate.
I know that they have all gone, to the city beyond the sun.
I am falling through my life.
And now, I'm left here on my own,
Sister left ages ago.
No love there, just broken thorns,
Endless screams. a strange divorce.
I'm falling, through my life.

SING * ONE DAY OF LIFE * TIME AND TIDE (part two)

THE music from the novel, The Pop Festival, was recorded in Glasgow at the well-known Cava Sound Workshops. It features some of the best musicians from north of the border. All the songs were written and composed by John A.Walker. Produced by Robin Rankin.

* * * *

Tonight at the Pop Festival the Silent Faces, along with many others in the 21st century, will try and understand time and its meaning; for they are all travelling back into the past to the old Pop world. The Silent Faces before crossing the bridge on their way to the Pop Festival stop and look down at the water below, suddenly out of the blue one of them recites a poem to the others . . .

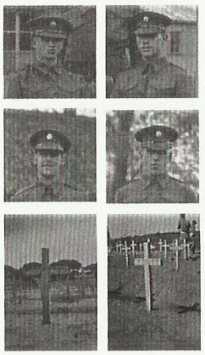
Thursday, 6 April 1944: Slept during the day, took turn at sentry duty. Dug trenches at night.
Good Friday, 7 April 1944: An old woman brings vino to us. A soldier is taken away to R.A.P. The Naffi stores arrive: Cigs, beer, chocolate, etc.
Sunday, 9 April 1944: Shelling on both sides, some close to us. It shakes us a bit. The place is infested with rats – it is horrible. A soldier has just shot his finger off; he has been in a bad state since he came here. Same old bully beef and biscuits.
Saturday, 15 April 1944: There are no latrine facilities. We use tins, etc. Most embarassing and repulsive, the place stinks. Sergeant and I go down to GHQ. All day and all night we have to guard against snipers and fixed line Spanduas. Not allowed out during the day.
Sunday, 16 April 1944: Cassino town is in ruins, every house is flat. The Officer tells us that he expects Jerry to attack. We get ready, no attack comes. We breathe normal again.
Monday, 17 April 1944: We move up into the forward area, this is the front line, not far from the Continental Hotel. We stand on guard at night with grenades in hand. Sleep during the day.
Wednesday, 19 April 1944: Germans fire on our position and throw up flares. Our 25 pounders silence them, but we had a nerve-racking experience, as the first few shells dropped close to us.
Thursday, 20 April 1944: We are supposed to be relieved by 7th platoon; they have had casualties on the way up: L/C Healy, Guardsman Robertson; Robertson dies.
Friday, 21 April 1944: We go back to C.H.Q. It is a relief to get away, even if it is only 80 yards back. Forward platoon attacked by Jerry at 8am, Guardsman Miller is killed, 5 other casualties.



And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. (Matthew 24:6)

For the love of money is the root from which all evils grow. It is this uncontrolled craving for money which has made some people lose the way, and caused them to experience the sting of many a bitter pang. (1 Timothy 6:10, Wm Barclay)

And Jesus, perceiving the thought of their heart, took a child, and set him by him, And said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this child in my name receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great - Lu 9:47, 48

Beyond the Controller's Reach, CD Album, accompanies the novel, Lucy Lovelock: a girl in a whirl. In the above novel Lucy joins the Controllers team inside the Academy of Entertainment: the main TV station in the city. While working there she is shocked to find out that people are being controlled by the media.

Lucy Lovelock and her friends, Jenny Penny, and Gina Cappuccino, like most young girls in the 21st century, do not like being controlled by the Media Moguls. And here today Lucy is off to work for the Academy of Entertainment: the main TV station in the city centre of town. How will she cope? How will the girl in a whirl keep her free spirit free?

I was influenced to write this CD album, Dead end Zurich, after reading the books: Code Name "Dora": Memoirs of a Russian Spy, by Sandor Rado, and The Swiss, the Gold and the Dead by Jean Ziegler.

Anyone interested in the spy network that operated from within Switzerland during the Second World War and the 'neutral' position of the Swiss government during this time should get a good understanding after reading the aforementioned books. During recording I visited Geneva and also Zurich to get a feel of the surroundings.
